Answer

b. The United States is ignoring the threat caused by foreign aggression

Many people in the U.S. took on a stance of Isolation during the start of WWII. Meaning that they did not want to get involved in the war. However, there was fear that The Nazi powers, once overthrown Europe would set it’s sites on the United States.

The Allied Powers had tried to Appease Hitler in the Munich Conference in hopes that he would stop his pursuit of more territory. It failed and after taking the Sudetenland from Czechoslovakia he continued to absorb territory. This is why many people in the U.S. and abroad feared the isolationist stance of America.
